ROOM FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS GOOD PLACE FOR FAMILIES

A Good Climate, with Plenty of Land and Water-Not a Case of Sicks ness in the Colony, So Far.

Lovell, Bighorn Co., Wyo., July 25. -Although there are over 400 people one case of sickness in the colony. Several ladies who were in very poor health when they came here are gaining in strength every day; they are beginning to feel as though they were having a new lease on life.

We have two stores besides the commissary where the people can buy almost anything they need, as cheap almost as it can be got in Salt Lake City. We have petitioned the general postmaster at Washington, D. C., for a postoffice. We have a daily mail running now at our own expense.

We are taking out a canal from the Shoshone river which will be about thirty miles long, it is fifteen feet wide on the bottom and twenty-five feet on top, it is intended to carry a depth of four fact of water. It covers 18,000 acres of fine looking land. A person can travel for miles and not see a rock larger than a hen's egg. President Sesslons, Navill Berry and I measured the river on 23rd ult. We found that its average width was 106 feet and the average depth was 3 feet flowing at the rate of 62-3 feet per second. The river has an average fall of 32 feet to the

The climate is a good climate; I arrived here on May 26 and have never seen any frost since I came here. A seen any frost since I came here. A cold wave swept over the basin on June 18. Most of the men worked on the canal with their coats on in the afternoon. We all thought there would be frost next morning, but to our surprise there was none. On the 22nd uit I visited some of the gradens along the river but the of the gardens along the river, but the frost had done no damage. Some few potato leaves singed very slightly where they were very dry. It never touched a tomato or bean vine. I bought potatoes for $1.25 per hundred pounds, they are as fine potatoes as I ever ate. A man came to our camp about two weeks ago to sell potatoes and beans. He informed us that he raised 110 bushels of the latter on one acre, and they were fine beans, too.

The land we are working for is locatd on benches ranging in size from 5,000 to 10,000 acres to a bench, and they slope to the south and west. We expect to have the water on the first bench in about four or five weeks. There are about 5,000 acres on that bench. We have over three miles of canal completed and about six feet of water flowing through the head gate. All of the colony joined together and the first three miles, then they livided into two camps, one camp conuing on with the canal the other go ing on to the first bench and starting there and working up. At this date the two camps are only about a mile apart. It is expected when they meet that there will be a jollification, as the backbone of the thing will be broken.

TIMBER FACILITIES. Four experienced men went to look ip the timber. They were gone five lays and prospected the mountains to the south of here, up the river. They ound plenty of good timber 35 mile from ere; they call it bird's eye inc, red and white fir. The timber anges from the size of a pole to a saw og two and a half feet through. There re very few limbs on it and it holds size well. There is a good road to but the prospectors say that the oshone is a good river to float timber wn. So we think that the colony will at their timber down the river and

He has tomatoes growng from the seed which he sowed in he garden. The tomatoes are already larger than a hen's egg. He has a fine crop of peas which are ripe. I bought ome fine potatoes last week from hir and they are almost ripe now. He has a good crop of wheat and oats.

Some people condemn this country on account of so much wind, but I have not seen any heavier winds since I came here than I have seen in Utah. It hardly ever rains here and the ground is very dry so when the wind ing which makes it seem to blow harder than it really does.

OLD SALT LAKER FROM COLORADO

Prodigious Irrigating Canal Project | Describes Conditions at Mancos, Montezuma County,

Plenty of Building Material, Coul, Grain, Flour, Hay and Other Necessaries.

Mr. W. W. White, who formerly was a citizen of Salt Lake, but who for the here camping out in tents, there is not past thirteen years has been a resident of Mancos, Montezuma county, Colorado, made a very pleasant call upon the "News" today. In the course of a conversation upon the condition of the country where he now resides, Mr. White said:

"Our county is in the southwest corner of the State of Colorado, Cortez being the principal town. We are following our old tradition of first raising something to eat, although we have something to eat, although we have some very fine mining prospects. We raise wheat, cats, rye, barley and alfalfa in pienty and the crops of all of these will this year be quite up to the average, although there is now a scarcity of water. During the first part of the season there was pienty of water, but it has dwindled away considerably by this time. As in Utah, the water supply is dependent upon the snowfall, although there are a number of springs although there are a number of spring supplying the Mancos river and the river bed always contains some water "As to our mines, they are some very good prospects about twelve miles awa from Mancos and last fall there was wagon road constructed to them. The are in the main financially unable t develop their properties as rapidly a they may desire, but they will certain turn out well when properly worked ly turn out well when properly worked.

"Our country is especially favorable to the homeseeker, for we have land, water, stone, brick clay, timber, coal, etc. Coal is delivered in Mancos for $2.50 per ton, and splendid coal at that. There are four saw mills in the immediate vicinity of Mancos and they do a considerable business.

"The 'Mormon' community there is building a stone meeting house 30 by 60 feet inside, and it will doubtless be finished this year. Bishop George Halls is proving the right man in the right place, as the people ail feel well towards place, as the people all feel well towards him and between themselves. Good health prevails, and I might add that we have room for some more good familles down there."
